Good Evening Chris,

I wanted to give you a quick update on Shiloh. I had a good conversation with our GIS specialist about what we need. She unfortunately is the only GIS person working on our contract and as such is very backed up. Aidan has come back from his month long sabbatical and I'm hoping he can help her in getting some of the simple requests turned around and we can then begin to tackle the bigger challenge of the property 2 post-ex figure.

I'll need to be in the field for several of my projects in the coming weeks as well. I had a great conversation with some of the staff that worked on Shiloh last, including Bryan, that helped bring clarity to what samples were post-ex and what was not.
